

PROFESSIONAL AND ORGANIZATIONAL INVOLVEMENTS
Time Frame	Particulars
March 2006-to date	Chairperson/Incorporator, WISE (Women's Initiatives for Society, Culture, and Environment) Inc. WISE seeks to contribute in the development of society as partners of marginalized and disadvantaged young and adult women, and their communities. Our mission is to create conditions and offer alternatives to women where responsibility for own development towards transforming families and societies can be realized. WISE members come from various fields of professional engagement—as social development workers, scientists, researchers, teachers, trainers, students, business entrepreneurs, corporate professionals, communicators, development managers, health professionals, planners, religious, and church workers---sharing the values of justice, equality in rights, peace, and integrity of oneself. (www.wisewomen.ph) As chairperson, I contribute in providing thrust, direction and inspiration to members.
June 2005-to date	Lecturer/Instructor. Teaches the following courses at IFRS: Religious Institutions and Society, Sociology of Change/Sociology of Religion, and Philippine History. Also engaged in facilitation and processing of community exposure experiences of IFRS students. Gives weekly lecture as introductory course in Sacred Scriptures in a formation house for young seminarians.
1998-2000	Information, Education and Communication (IEC) Specialist for Social Health Insurance and Networking and Empowerment Project (SHINE). The project was funded through the German Agency for Technical Cooperation (GTZ) which provided technical assistance in social insurance and facilitated networking between the national agency tasked for ensuring national health insurance coverage, local government units (LGUs) and community-based health organizations. I was in-charged of developing IEC materials on social health insurance and conducting trainings for community organizations in setting-up health financing schemes.
1995-1997 and 2000-2001	Program Staff for the Integrated Socio-Economic Program (ISEP) of the Women's Education, Development, Productivity and Research Organization (WEDPRO). Have been engaged in the project initially as a community organizer and later as program coordinator. The program aimed to offer alternatives for prostituted women around the area of a former US military base in Angeles City, Pampanga.
1994-1995	Program Staff for the Philippine Environmental Action Network (PEAN) which is a network of people's organizations (Pos) and non-government organizations (NGOs) advocating for the protecting of the country's environment and natural resources. As program staff, I was responsible in disseminating information to network partners regarding issues and activities undertaken by members. I was also in-charged of media communication.
